

The Aesthetic Mind: First Conference

Imagination and Fiction

12th-13th February, 2018,
Université de Fribourg ,
Centre de formation continue
Room AVR 0101

Monday 12th February, 2018

9:30am-11:00am: Gregory Currie (University of York), Learning from imagination, from fiction and from science

11:15am-12:45pm: Paloma Atencia-Linares (National Autonomous University of Mexico), Suspension of disbelief, attention and imagination

2:15pm-3:45pm: Manuel García-Carpintero (University of Barcelona), Assertions in fictions

4:00pm-5:30pm: Amy Kind (Claremont McKenna College), Fiction and imagining across different experiential perspectives

Tuesday 13th February, 2018

9:30am-11:00am: Kendall Walton (University of Michigan), How to think about fiction, and how not to

11:15am-12:45pm: Laszlo Kajtar (Central European University), Narrative and imagination: fiction and nonfiction

2:15pm-3:45pm: Anna Ichino (Bar Ilan University): Wise pens, evil cardigans, powerful reptiles and other strange things

Organized by: Julia Langkau, Patrik Engisch, Tom Kindt

The Aesthetic Mind (Fribourg/Goettingen Research Group): <https://aestheticmindgroup.wordpress.com/>

Please register with Patrik (patrik.engisch@gmail.com) or Julia (julialangkau@gmail.com)